

Western Theater, Union Order of Battle

The Army of the Tennessee, Pittsburg Landing, 6 April 1862

AOT Headquarters

*37,331 soldiers and 111 artillery pieces present and equipped for duty
(excludes Third Division at Crump's Landing)*

Maj. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant 18" (5) +1

270 points

supply trains x 2

240 points

20 pound rifled artillery battalion

180 points

20 pound rifled artillery gunboat "Tyler"

20 pound rifled artillery gunboat "Lexington" 360 points

Provisional Wisconsin & Michigan Brigade (rifles, green)

40 points

First Division, Maj. Gen. J. A. McClernard

370 points

Second Division, Brig. Gen. W. H. L. Wallace

472 points

Fourth Division, Brig. Gen. S. A. Hurlbut

288 points

Fifth Division, Brig. Gen. W. T. Sherman

374 points

Sixth Division, Brig. Gen. B. M. Prentiss

354 points

TOTAL

2,948 points

Note 1: All AOT units begin the game in an unformed formation (effectively, in a routed state), and must be unrouted and change formation via an attached friendly generals' command ability; except for Peabody's brigade of Prentiss' division, which starts in line formation; and Grant (see Note 2).

Note 2: The first turn of the game is the confederate dawn 5.00am turn, however Grant does not appear on the map – at Pittsburg landing – until the union 8.30am turn.

First Division

Maj. Gen. J. A. McClellan 4" (2) +2

40 points

10 pound rifled artillery battalion

120 points

First Brigade, First Division, Col. A. M. Hare (rifles, regular)

80 points

Second Brigade, First Division, Col. C. C. Marsh (rifles, regular)

60 points

Third Brigade, First Division, Col. J. Raith (rifles, regular)

70 points

Second Division

Brig. Gen. W. H. L. Wallace 6" (3) +3

90 points

10 pound rifled artillery battalion

120 points

First Brigade, Second Division, Col. J. T. Tuttle (rifles, regular)

70 points

Second Brigade, Second Division, Brig. Gen. J. MacArthur (sharpshooters +1, regular)

96 points

Third Brigade, Second Division, Col. T. W. Sweeney (rifles, green)

96 points

Fourth Division

Brig. Gen. S. A. Hurlbut 4" (2) +2

40 points

12 pound smoothbore artillery battalion

60 points

First Brigade, Fourth Division, Col. N. G. Williams (rifles, green)

64 points

Second Brigade, Fourth Division, Col. J. C. Veatch (rifles, green)

64 points

Third Brigade, Fourth Division, Brig. Gen. J. G. Lauman (rifles, regular)

60 points

Fifth Division

Brig. Gen. W. T. Sherman 6" (3) +3

90 points

12 pound smoothbore artillery battalion

60 points

First Brigade, Fifth Division, Col. J. A. McDowell (rifles, green)

56 points

Second Brigade, Fifth Division, Col. D. Stuart (rifles, green)

56 points

Third Brigade, Fifth Division, Col. J. Hildebrand (rifles, green)

56 points

Fourth Brigade, Fifth Division, Col. R. P. Buckland (rifles, green)

56 points

Sixth Division

Brig. Gen. B. M. Prentiss 6” (3) +3

90 points

10 pound rifled artillery battalion

120 points

First Brigade, Sixth Division, Col. E. Peabody (rifles, green)

64 points

Second Brigade, Sixth Division, Col. M. Miller (rifles, green)

48 points

Provisional Iowa & Missouri Brigade (rifles, green)

32 points

Western Theater, Union Order of Battle

Third Division, The Army of the Tennessee, Crump's Landing, 6 April 1862

Third Division

7,564 soldiers and 12 artillery pieces present and equipped for duty

Maj. Gen. Lew. Wallace 4" (2) +2

40 points

6 pound smoothbore artillery battalion

40 points

First Brigade, Third Division, Col. M. T. Smith (rifles, regular)

70 points

Second Brigade, Third Division, Col. J. M. Thayer (rifles, regular)

70 points

Third Brigade, Third Division, Col. C. Whittlesey (rifles, regular)

80 points

TOTAL

300 points

Note 3: This division appears, in march column, marching onto the map at Snake Creek, on the Union 6.00pm turn.

Western Theater, Union Order of Battle

The Army of the Ohio, in the vicinity of Savannah, 6 April 1862

AOO Headquarters

20,397 soldiers and 18 artillery pieces present and equipped for duty

Maj. Gen. Don Carlos Buell 16" (4) +1

120 points

supply trains x 2

240 points

12 pound smoothbore artillery battalion

60 points

Second Division, Brig. Gen. A. M. McCook

264 points

Fourth Division, Brig. Gen. W. Nelson

160 points

Fifth Division, Brig. Gen. T. L. Crittenden

136 points

Sixth Division, Brig. Gen. T. J. Wood

136 points

TOTAL

1,116 points

Note 4: This army is ferried into Pittsburg landing, one unit per hour, from the Union 5.00pm turn onwards; Nelson first, then McCook, then Crittenden, then Wood. Starting formation is as desired.

Second Division

Brig. Gen. A. M. McCook 4" (2) +2

40 points

Fourth Brigade, Second Division, Brig. Gen. L. H. Rousseau (rifles, green)

72 points

Fifth Brigade, Second Division, Col. E. N. Kirk (rifles, green)

72 points

Sixth Brigade, Second Division, Col. W. H. Gibson (rifles, green)

80 points

Fourth Division

Brig. Gen. W. Nelson 4" (2) +2

40 points

Tenth Brigade, Fourth Division, Col. J. Ammen (rifles, green)

40 points

Nineteenth Brigade, Fourth Division, Col. W. B. Hazen (rifles, green)

40 points

Twenty-second Brigade, Fourth Division, Col. S. D. Bruce (rifles, green)

40 points

Fifth Division

Brig. Gen. T. L. Crittenden 4" (2) +2

40 points

Eleventh Brigade, Fifth Division, Brig. Gen. J. T. Boyle (rifles, green)

56 points

Fourteenth Brigade, Fifth Division, Col. W. S. Smith (rifles, green)

40 points

Sixth Division

Brig. Gen. T. J. Wood 4" (2) +2

40 points

Twentieth Brigade, Sixth Division, Brig. Gen. J. A. Garfield (rifles, green)

40 points

Twenty-first Brigade, Sixth Division, Col. G. D. Wagner (rifles, green)

56 points

Western Theater, Confederate Order of Battle

The Army of the Mississippi, Pittsburg Landing, 6 April 1862

AOM Headquarters

40,335 soldiers and 121 artillery pieces present and equipped for duty

(excludes 6 elements of reinforcements to the Army of the Mississippi on 7 April 1862)

General Albert S. Johnston 18" (5) +1

270 points

Second in Command, General Pierre G. T. Beauregard 10" (3) +1

80 points

supply trains x 4

480 points

cavalry (green, small arms)

cavalry (green, small arms)

20 points

20 points

First Corps, Maj. Gen. Leonidas Polk

110 points

First Division, First Corps, Brig. Gen. Charles Clark

233 points

Second Division, First Corps, Brig. Gen. B. F. Cheatham

193 points

Second Corps, Maj. Gen. Braxton Bragg

110 points

First Division, Second Corps, Brig. Gen. Daniel Ruggles

347 points

Second Division, Second Corps, Brig. Gen. J. M. Withers

339 points

Third Corps, Maj. Gen. W. J. Hardee

369 points

Reserve Corps, Brig. Gen. J. C. Breckinridge

368 points

TOTAL

2,971 points

Note 5: In each turn where one or more Confederate infantry brigades charge into contact, Johnston will attach to at least one of these Confederate units, if it is possible for him to do so.

Note 6: For each Union infantry brigade which disperses, any one Confederate musket-armed infantry brigade within 1" is immediately re-armed with rifles.

First Corps

Maj. Gen. Leonidas Polk 10" (3) + 1

80 points

cavalry (green, small arms)

30 points

First Division, First Corps

Brig. Gen. Charles Clark 4" (2) + 2

40 points

6 pound smoothbore artillery battalion

40 points

First Brigade, First Division, First Corps, Col. R. M. Russell (muskets, green)

81 points

Second Brigade, First Division, First Corps, Brig. Gen. A. P. Stewart (muskets, green)

72 points

Second Division, First Corps

Brig. Gen. B. F. Cheatham 4" (2) + 2

40 points

6 pound smoothbore artillery battalion

40 points

First Brigade, Second Division, First Corps, Brig. Gen. B. R. Johnson (muskets, green)

63 points

Second Brigade, Second Division, First Corps, Col. W. H. Stephens (rifles, green)

50 points

Second Corps

Maj. Gen. Braxton Bragg 10" (3) +1

80 points

cavalry (green, small arms)

30 points

First Division, Second Corps

Brig. Gen. Daniel Ruggles 6" (3) + 3

90 points

12 pound smoothbore artillery battalion

60 points

First Brigade, First Division, Second Corps, Col. R. L. Gibson (muskets, green)

72 points

Second Brigade, First Division, Second Corps, Brig. Gen. Patton Anderson (muskets, green) 45 points

Third Brigade, First Division, Second Corps, Col. Preston Pond Jr. (muskets, green)

80 points

Second Division, Second Corps

Brig. Gen. J. M. Withers 6" (3) + 3

90 points

12 pound smoothbore artillery battalion

60 points

First Brigade, Second Division, Second Corps, Brig. Gen. A. H. Gladden (muskets, green) 63 points

Second Brigade, Second Division, Second Corps, Brig. Gen. J. R. Chalmers (muskets, green) 63 points

Third Brigade, Second Division, Second Corps, Brig. Gen. J. K. Jackson (muskets, green) 63 points

Third Corps

Maj. Gen. W. J. Hardee 10" (3) +1

80 points

12 pound smoothbore artillery battalion

60 points

6 pound smoothbore artillery battalion

40 points

First Brigade, Third Corps, Brig. Gen. T. C. Hindman (muskets, green)

63 points

Second Brigade, Third Corps, Brig. Gen. P. R. Cleburne (muskets, green)

72 points

Third Brigade, Third Corps, Brig. Gen. S. A. M. Wood (muskets, green)

54 points

Reserve Corps

Maj. Gen. J. C. Breckinridge 10" (3) +1

80 points

12 pound smoothbore artillery battalion

60 points

6 pound smoothbore artillery battalion

40 points

First Brigade, Reserve Corps, Col. R. P. Trabue (rifles, green)

80 points

Second Brigade, Reserve Corps, Brig. Gen. J. S. Bowen (muskets, green)

45 points

Third Brigade, Reserve Corps, Col. W. S. Statham (muskets, green)

63 points

Western Theater, Confederate Order of Battle

Reinforcing the Army of the Mississippi, Pittsburg Landing, 7 April 1862

Reinforcing AOM Headquarters

Col. N. B. Forrest 6" (3) +3

90 points

cavalry (green, small arms)

30 points

Reinforcing Second Division, First Corps

infantry (muskets, green)

18 points

TOTAL

138 points

Note 7: These six elements of reinforcements appear within the Army of the Mississippi overnight on 7 April 1862.

Note 8: If both brigades of the Second Division, First Corps are now armed with rifles, the reinforcing infantry are immediately re-armed with rifles.